1992 Beneteau Moorings 405, freshwater-used, racer, cruiser with a Yanmar diesel!

Beneteau sailboats have a tradition of being well built, well-performing sailboats. Designed by world-renowned Jean Berret, the Beneteau Moorings 405 represents a performance-oriented design while still providing accommodations for cruising.

The Beneteau Moorings 405 cockpit is roomy and deep. It has ample bench seating, B&G electronics monitor mounted to the Edson pedestal steering system.

Moving about the deck is easy due to the clean deck layout and wide side decks leading forward.

To access the cabin area from the cockpit, you descend a four-step entry stair which is also the front engine hatch.
