Got a NEED for SPEED??

The TX-19 "gullwing" or "cathedral" hull design was developed by Jim Youngblood around 1975. This boat remains one of the most popular and copied performance jetboats ever built. This hull design is still built by several builders today.

The TX-19 was considered an "almost idiot proof" boat. You can set it up most any way and it will run decently. With the Chevrolet Berkley 555 CID inboard it will move.

According to www.youngbloodjetboats.com, "it is still considered one of the quicker hulls from a dead start to 600 to 800 feet out. At about 800 feet the modern tunnel boats start to come on strong. It also takes a...
